Dear me from the future, you are reading a letter from your past self right now. You have probably forgotten about this letter ~~by now~~: it's been five years, after all. I hope you're feeling well both mentally and ~~physi~~ psychically.

As you already know, I'm really focus on maintaining a healthy lifestyle at the moment. I'm trying to attend gym as much as I possibly can. Also, I regularly visit my psychologist. Talking about my trauma and the bad memories and being heard at the same time feels like my mind is progressively healing. Actually, I have recently found out that I'm lactose intollerant. Such news made me feel sad ~~at~~ because I couldn't eat so many products anymore, especially chocolate! But after some time I got used to my new diet and can see lots of advantages. Because of this allergy I stopped eating sweets which is good for my body. I began to like eating fruits and peanuts instead of candies.

Honestly, I started feeling so much better after deciding to maintain a healthy lifestyle! I hope that you are still doing it and that you are happy now, my future self. I'd like to ask you so many questions. What kind of challenges have you overcome and what victories have you achieved during these five years? Have you fully healed from the trauma? Are you still attending gym? Whatever life you are living right now, I just want you to know that I'm proud of you. We are both ~~two~~ aware that we had a rough past, and I hope you're still doing your best at trying to live happily. I think it's time to finish writing this letter. Sending lots of love from your past self.
