Задача 4

My dear future self,

It's my distinct pleasure to be endowed with an opportunity to write you a letter. It's been five years since you've graduated! I bet nostalgic feelings are recurrent in your life and you yearn to look back on the good old days. So, without any further ado, let me describe my current daily life for you to reminisce it.

Recently it dawned on me that ~~taking care of your health~~ maintaining a lifestyle that excludes any health-damaging practices is vital for your sanity, especially amidst cramming and burning the midnight oil for your imminent exams. Therefore, unlike my peers, I made up my mind to cease going out and dodge consuming junk food, thus becoming more conscious of my dietary choices. Moreover, nowadays I tend to spend my spare time training vigorously and honing my skills at the gym. My endeavour to be as strong as an ox resulted in me having a six-pack! I consider this impressive, bearing in mind that I used to be overweight. I feel way healthier now! Ultimately, as you know, the role of psychological health cannot be overestimated, that's why I commenced being more vigilant mental-wise by dint of taking up a multitude of mindfulness techniques, for instance, regular meditations.

I'm extremely grateful for me building a healthy routine and not abandoning it, staying disciplined and carrying on despite the obstacles on my journey.

I hope that your omnipresent desire to give up didn't take over and you're as hale and hearty as you used to be.

Did you run a marathon? Are there any other personal victories considering health you can boast? Did you manage to implement sport into your busy student life?

Best wishes,

Your current self
