Studying abroad: why and for whom?

Sun March 28, 2021.

Ivan Petrov for "Current news".

Moscow - It is a well-known fact that studying abroad is becoming more and more popular nowadays. Every student has his own reasons for such choice. Let us try to analyse them. On behalf of the "Current news" I has conducted an online survey among 400 students of different universities. Its results are presented below.

Trends and causes.

According to the statistics, the main reason for all students to study abroad is their wishing for future career prospects. There is no wonder in it, because in many countries the level of education is too low, and talented students have to go abroad to develop their skills and to reach success. It is also logical that the amount of people with this motivation increases among Master degree students comparing to Bachelor degree students from 34% to 47%.

The second most popular reason is language learning, which seems to be the most important for 25% of Bachelor degree students. The "sink or swim" methodic can be effective, but the number of Master degree students choosing this ~~goal~~ goal is decreasing to 18%, because most of them have already developed their language skills in other ways.

The third main reason for Bachelor degree students is increasing maturity and self-confidence (21%). It is useful when you are beginning your independent life, but only 5% of elder students choose it instead of more practical goals.

The percentage of students who want to understand the cultural values is equal for Bachelor and Master degree students (16%), because such things are relevant for all people.

The last type of motivation is travelling opportunity. It is rather popular for Master degree students (14%) and the least popular for others (4%), as far as people usually want to get the minimal high education in their homeland and then to try something new.

To summarize, I should say that the speed of globalization is constantly increasing, so the amount of students who study abroad will only grow in the future.

Task 2. Essay.

The topic of right communication is extremely important nowadays, because it is necessary for the successful life in the society. However, when you watch a film or a performance in a theatre, you may see that the way characters are speaking is absolutely different from the real life. Why does it happen?

УЧЕБНИК стр. 4.

To begin ~~with~~ with, the statement about the difference between speaking on stage and in reality is fair when we are talking about historical films and plays. The language is constantly changing, and it is impossible to imagine Romeo and Juliette speaking like modern teenagers.

What is more, drama characters should not speak like ordinary people because of the genre standards. The ~~script~~ author of the script make their speech more expressive, clear and "proper" to keep the atmosphere of the story and not to ~~to~~ let auditory get bored. We are too tired from this ~~simple~~ simple and vulgar words we hear at the street to listen it again from the screen or the stage.

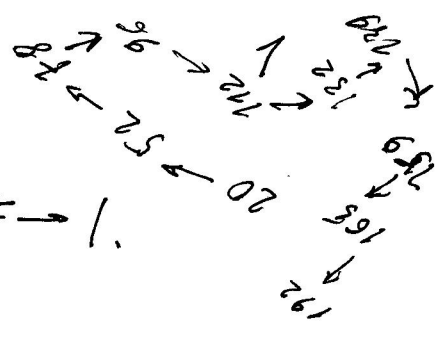

In conclusion I want to say that communication on the stage and in real life have its special rules, and ~~it is~~ there is no reason in mixing it.
