Why else should you not trust everything you see online?

Nowadays, the Internet is very important to the society. However, you cannot always ~~trust~~ believe what you see there.

Firstly, as mentioned in the text above, messages can be misinterpreted. The actual information is often retold differently and even large ~~news~~ news sites can be wrong in their conclusions.

Secondly, certain details ~~can~~ can be changed or completely fabricated for attention. For instance, one may post an edited photo and claim they've seen paranormal activity. A more trivial example is people gossiping about celebrities online.

Finally, the Internet is not a fully secure place. Criminals ~~can~~ can easily pretend to be official workers in order to steal money or personal data. Moreover, media platforms can be used to promote illegal activity.

To conclude, using the Internet is ~~is~~ sometimes very convenient. But ~~because~~ because of all the aforementioned ~~issues~~ <sup>issues</sup>, it is advised to be careful in the search for ~~information~~ information.

OUR SCHOOL'S WINNERS

MOSCOW - Our magazine has been collecting stories of pupils and teachers from our school winning different ~~competitions~~ competitions. In this week's 'Stories of the month', we present them.

Ivan Ivanov, a PE teacher, recently took part in a 15-kilometre marathon. During the run, he was injured, but still managed to be the first to ~~complete~~ complete it. 'I fell and hit my knee really badly,' he told us. 'I thought I'd lose, but, to my surprise, I came first.')

Mikhail Mikhailov, who is currently in fourth grade, told us his story about winning a local music competition where he played the accordion. He said: 'I had no idea it was a contest until they asked me to come up to the stage and receive my first place award!'

The third story is from Anton Antonov. Some may know him as the history teacher, but that is not all he does. 'I really enjoy gardening and farming, so ~~that~~ this autumn I decided to enter a harvest ~~competition~~ competition,' he says. The ~~tomatoes~~ tomatoes he grew were nominated for the 'vegetable of the year' award.

In conclusion to this week's column, it is fair to say our school is proud of its winners. We also wish everyone to have more similar stories in life.
