Task 2.

These days, in the times of modern technologies, the Internet has become a part of everyday life. It is hard for people today to imagine one day without Wi-Fi connection. We purchase different things, search for information and make acquaintances online. But very often what one sees on the Net may not be what it seems to be. So, the question is, why should a person not trust everything online?

To start with, there are a lot of dishonest people, who can hack your profile, get access to your credit card, blackmail you and etc. It is crucial not to share private information with strangers. Another danger is false information. When people search for some articles for instance, for their school project, it is easy to come across misleading data. Sometimes, relying on such unverified sources can result in serious consequences.

So, that is why everyone needs to be careful with everything on the Net.

winning the National Marathon. "I have always dreamt of becoming a sportsman - tells us Tom - I hated myself as I thought my disability would prevent me from building a sports career but I continued training despite everything and finally, my dream came true. That is why you should never give up!"

Our next interviewee is a 9th grader Michael Roberts. Michael is a gifted musician. A few weeks ago he gave his first performance. "My grandfather was a famous pianist and he inspired me to devote my life to music, - tells us Michael, - I was very thrilled after my performance. It is flattering to hear people applauding."

The last achievement has been made by George Stone. He was a biology teacher at Ashbury for over 20 years before he retired. This year he had the biggest harvest of tomatoes in the US. "After my retirement I had nothing to do and became very pessimistic. My wife told advised me to take up farming, - says George, - Now it has become my passion. This record encouraged me to continue working!"

To conclude, there are many hardworking people in our school. Let us hope, next year even more achievements will be made
