

МОСКОВСКИЙ ГОСУДАРСТВЕННЫЙ УНИВЕРСИТЕТ имени М.В. ЛОМОНОСОВА

ОЛИМПИАДНАЯ РАБОТА

Наименование олимпиады школьников: «Покори Воробьевы Горы!»

Профиль олимпиады: Иностранный язык

ФИО участника олимпиады: Адеева Ксения Леонидовна

Технический балл: 99

Дата: 30 марта 2022 года

Yumobuk.

Task 1.

- 1) When did the ^Rrealist movement emerge?
- 2) Was Realism concerned with depicting unidealised images?
- 3) Why was there controversy surrounding the movement?
- 4) How did the Realist movement develop?
- 5) Did artists from other countries contribute to the movement?

Task 1: 15

Task 2.

According to the article "Realism" from Wikipedia, the Realist movement, that appeared in the 1840s, depicted ordinary life situations of that period of time. Contrary to the Romantic movement, that was known for idealizing the subjects and ~~omitting~~ omitting untidy details, Realism showed people of all classes without exaggeration, promoted new values brought upon by the Industrial Revolution and ridiculed old values. The artist that led the movement in France was Gustave Courbet. Realism gained popularity in France, then it spread across Europe and remained relevant for a century until it became mainstream. Another group of artists that contributed to the Realist movement was the Peredvizhniki which included artists of different genres. In my opinion, this movement is significant as it broke the boundaries of what could be depicted in works of art. Another reason why Realism is so valuable is the ~~fact~~ that historical accuracy of the works belonging to this movement.

1.

Task 2: 35

I woke up in the morning and found myself in an unfamiliar place with only sand all around. I looked up and saw the sun shining. There wasn't a cloud in the sky. As I sat up and turned my head to the right, I noticed water. I was definitely on a beach but I vividly remembered going to bed in my room last night. I started panicking. My heart was racing and a million thoughts filled my mind. When I calmed down I noticed a person selling corn in the distance and decided to ask him about my whereabouts.

I was shocked to find out that the person could not understand what I was ~~saying~~ talking about as he spoke a different language. But I tried to cheer myself up, as someone just had to speak English. Unfortunately, every person I met shrugged and walked past me. Then I figured that I would not get anywhere by simply asking random people on the street and headed for the airport. Finding it was a quest but I arrived there and asked if I could book a flight to New York. Much to my disappointment, all flights for today were booked. I had nowhere to go so I simply returned to the beach. The sun was setting and the colours of the sky blended together. The sunlight reflected in the water and the view was heavenly.

Suddenly, my brother appeared out of nowhere. "I'm so sorry. I was testing my teleportation device yesterday and accidentally sent you here," he said. "Next time warn me about your experiments!" I exclaimed. My brother used his device once more and we were finally home.

Unclebox.

Task 3: 49

Чтение. (Бауман) 1) How...

Reading.

Task 1.

3) Was...

Does...

Is...

2) Did...

4) Wh-questions

1) different types

2) don't repeat

4) How did the Realist movement develop in France?

1) Where did the Realist movement emerge?

3) Was Realism concerned with depicting unidealised images?

4) Why did there controversy surrounding the movement?

5) Did ~~any~~ artists from other countries contribute to the movement?

Task 2.

+ source, title, main events, examples
+ my opinion

140 - 160 words!

the source! the article "Realism"

The Realist movement Based on the information from Wikipedia, the Realist movement, that emerged appeared in the 1840s, de strives to depicted ordinary life situations of that period of time. Contrary to the Romantic movement, that was known for exaggerating and idealising some idealising the subjects of works of art. Realism emphasizes shows people of all classes without exaggeration. This movement sparked controversy as was not accepted by everyone as it promotes the new values brought upon by the Industrial Revolution and questioned old values and ridiculed old values. For To depict (To depict a realistic image and ignore artificial beauty artists of the movement used earth tones colours.) The movement, which emerged in France, was artist that led the movement Gustave Courbet. Realism spread a gained popularity in Europe and far remained relevant for a century. until it became mainstream. Another group of artists that contributed to the Realist movement was the ¹²⁹ ¹³⁰ Peredvizhni which included ¹³² landscape artists, ¹³³ portraitists and was artists ¹³⁴ artists of different genres. This movement was very significant (to the development of culture) as it broke the boundaries and expanded the subject that could be depicted in works of art. Another reason why Realism in particular is so important and valuable is the fact that works that belong to this movement can be regarded as serve as an accurate source of serve as an accurate historical source as it depicts ¹⁵³ they showed all aspects of life during that time ~~period~~ era with accuracy.

Neopokus

of dialogue with a brother

Task 3.

+ 260-280 words!

- plan:

- + 1). chain of events + ending
- + 2). at least 2 characters
- + 3). a description
- + 4). a dialogue: direct speech

I woke up in the morning and found myself in an unfamiliar place with only sand all around. My head was pounding and my I started panicking as I could not recognise The sun was shining and there wasn't a cloud in the sky. As I lifted my head I saw sat up and turned my head to the right I saw water. I was definitely on a beach ~~in the middle of~~ but I vividly remembered going to bed in my room last night. I started panicking. My heart was racing and there were a million thoughts filled my mind. When I calmed down I decided to ask the person selling corn where I was. / 100

Plot:

Woke up at the beach doesn't remember what happened (last night went to bed) asked the people around - could not understand them. - in a big country Spent the day trying to find a way to get to land. Finally gave up, ~~walked~~ ^{returned} to the beach. Suddenly his brother appears out of nowhere and

I was shocked to find out that the person could not understand what I was talking about as he spoke a different language. But I tried to cheer myself up, as someone had just had to speak English. Unfortunately, every person I met either shrugged and walked past me or stared at me like I was crazy. Then I figured that I would not get anywhere by asking random people on the street and decided headed for the airport. Finding it was a quiet island but arrived there and asked if I could book a flight to New York. I stuck to my shock, all the flights were full today were booked. I had nowhere to go so simply returned to the beach. The sun was setting and the sky was covered in pink, blue colours of the sunset blended together. The sun's reflection in the water and the view was heavenly.

Suddenly, my brother appeared out of nowhere. "There! I'm sorry. I was testing my teleportation device yesterday (and accidentally sent you here," he said.

"Next time next time warn me about your experiments!" exclaimed. He used his device only brother used his device and we were finally home.