

МОСКОВСКИЙ ГОСУДАРСТВЕННЫЙ УНИВЕРСИТЕТ имени М.В. ЛОМОНОСОВА

ОЛИМПИАДНАЯ РАБОТА

Наименование олимпиады школьников: «Покори Воробьевы Горы!»

Профиль олимпиады: Иностранный язык

ФИО участника олимпиады: Гулина Полина Александровна

Технический балл: 96

Дата: 30 марта 2022 года

Başvurum 1

Task 1

Yazınobur w^P1

1. Why did realists reject the Romantic movement?
2. What was usually depicted in Realist masterpieces?
3. Realism was never considered as controversial, wasn't it?
4. What was avoided in Realist works: idealization or the truth?
5. Was the Peredvizhniki community established in the 1980's?

Task 1: 14

Task 2

Realist Movement

The motherland of Realism is France, where it appeared in the 19th century. The movement was generally considered bewildering, as the public was used to idealization typical of Romanticism. As soon as photography was invented, realists began to be even more willing to depict the real life with all its imperfections. Right after the increase of the Impressionist movement popularity, Realism was often referred to as a more common painting style.

One of the most famous Realist communities, the Peredvizhniki, was established in Russia. One has definitely heard the name of one of the most celebrated members of the group, Ivan Shishkin, and has seen his work called "Bears in the Wood".

Personally, I think such cultural phenomena as Realism are undoubtedly important for the whole society, as they play a significant role in the development of the understanding of the impact of certain political changes and their influence on the life of ordinary people.

Task 2: 34

Information Source : Wikipedia

Task 3

A Game of My Subconscious

I woke up in the morning and found myself in an unfamiliar place with only sand all around. Soon, I found out that I wasn't actually alone in that location - there was also a friend of mine, Richard. I couldn't put my finger on anything. Of course, I often visited some remote islands with my family during my holidays, but this was something special. The life on the abandoned island, where we happened to be them, seemed to be rather dangerous.

"What's going on?" Richard suddenly asked me in a sleepy voice. And what could I answer?

"Everything is fine," I tried to console him.

A terrible feeling of hunger prevented us from resolving this untoward problem. We made up our minds to find something to eat, but we spent nearly an hour in vain. When we were almost ready to lose hope, an old man with a blue bottle in his ~~arms~~^{hands} came out of nowhere. He gave us his bottle, which was filled with strange substance, and disappeared, without saying a word. In an instant, Richard spilled several drops of ~~the~~ the liquid on his ~~the~~ clothes and ... disappeared, just like that old man. I was seized with panic, but then I was so unfortunate as to spill the rest of the substance. I felt a sudden pang in my heart, closed my eyes and when I opened them, I found myself lying in bed in my room. It took me 15 minutes to understand that this was just a dream. Nevertheless, it was quite a thrilling experience, though I wouldn't say I'd like to repeat it in the real life.

Черновик №1
Task 1

- 1) Why did realists reject the Romantic movement?
 - 2) What ~~was~~ was usually depicted in the Realist masterpieces?
 - 3) ~~the~~ Realism had never been considered as controversial, hadn't it?
 - 4) Was Romantic ^{idealization} or the ^{the truth} depiction of the working class avoided in Realist works?
 - 5) What was ~~is~~ avoided in Realist works: idealization or the truth?
-
- 5) Was the Peredvizhniki community established in the 1980s?

Task 2

Realist Movement

The motherland of Realism is France, where it appeared in the 19th century. The movement was generally considered bewildering, as the public was used to ~~the~~ idealization ~~and typical for~~ ~~exaggerate~~ ~~fanfeted~~ ~~to emotions of~~ ~~the~~ Romanticism. As soon as photography was invented, artists began to be even more willing to ~~deeply~~ depict the real life with all its imperfections. Right after the increase of the Impressionist movement popularity, it was ~~more~~ often referred to as a ~~or~~ more common painting style. (46)

One of the most ~~famous~~ famous Realist communities, The Peredvizhniki, was established in Russia. One has definitely heard the names of ^{one of} the most celebrated ^{members} of the group, Ivan Shishkin and his ~~work of art~~ work of art called "Bears in the Wood". (46)

from Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Personally, I think such cultural phenomena as Realism are ~~certainly~~ ^{definitely, undoubtedly} important for the ~~development~~ whole society, for they play a significant role in the development of the understanding of the impact of certain political changes and their influence on the life of ordinary people. (43)

160 w

Task 3

Yerubur w2

I woke up in the morning and found myself in an unfamiliar place with only sand tall around. Well, a perfect beginning of an ~~was~~ astonishing story, you may think. And you'll be right, as even I cannot help remembering this situation again and again.

$$(44) - 26 = 18$$

This was a somewhat untypical morning for me, as you may have already understood. I found out, to my surprise, that I wasn't actually alone in that location - there was also a friend of mine, Richard, with whom we were doing our homework the day before. I ~~was~~ couldn't manage to put my finger on anything. Of course, I had often visited some remote islands during ~~the~~ vacation holidays, but this was something special. A terrible feeling of hunger prevented me from continuing my efforts to ~~remember~~ resolve this untoward situation. By that time Richard had also woken up and he tried to ask me.

94

"What have you done? What's going on?" asked me in a sleepy voice. And what could I answer ~~on this?~~ To be honest, I ~~had~~ asked the same questions to myself. ~~was also anxious to know the truth.~~ I decided not to waste my time as the life in the abandoned island, where we happened to be then, seemed to be rather dangerous. I convinced Richard that everything was fine, and we made up our minds to find something to eat, but we spent nearly an hour in vain (fortunately, I had my iPhone with me). which was also We tried to phone our parents, but the network on ~~as~~ that island appeared to be terrible, which wasn't in the least surprising.

65

We spent the rest of the morning observing the island.

When we were almost ready to close hope, an old man with ~~came out of~~ came out of nowhere.

a blue bottle in his arms

He silently gave us his bottle, which was filled with strange water, ~~He~~ and Richard It took us quite a long time to and disappeared, without saying anything.

738

understand what is the real purpose of this thing a suspicious enchanted had given to us. Suddenly Richard spilled ~~to~~ several drops of water on his ~~clothes~~^{clothes} and... disappeared, just like that old man. I was seized with panic, but then I also was so unfortunate as to spill the rest of the liquid. I felt a sudden pang in my heart, closed my eyes and when I opened them, I found myself lying in bed in my room. I looked at the clock - 10 A.M.
~~the time I usually wake up.~~ I took me & 15 minutes to understand that this was just a dream. Nevertheless, ~~it~~ it was quite a thrilling experience, though I wouldn't say I'd like to repeat it in the real life. (108)

$$\begin{array}{r}
 1 \\
 18 \\
 + 94 \\
 \hline
 115 \\
 + 65 \\
 \hline
 180 \\
 + 38 \\
 \hline
 228 \\
 + 308 \\
 \hline
 336 \\
 - 14 \\
 \hline
 322 \\
 - 50 \\
 \hline
 272 \\
 350 \\
 306 \\
 308 \\
 300 \\
 298
 \end{array}$$

Game of My Subconscious

$$\begin{array}{r}
 .10 \\
 44 \\
 - 26 \\
 \hline
 18
 \end{array}$$

"Everything is fine," I tried to console him.