In the text "Zero-waste grocery stores" written by Ian Wright and published in "The News" is told about a good solution of the environmental problems. The author said that plastic is one of the most harmful things nowadays. He gave some examples: tons of plastic go in oceans, destroying a wildlife. So he told about a modern supermarket which helps to save our nature. It is said that there are used only natural materials for packaging which can be recycled. Also, people can bring their own containers to the shop so it also helps to improve the environmental situation. Ian Wright told that these supermarkets aren't only in China but in other countries too as people worry about the ecology now.

In my opinion, it's really necessary to take care of the environment and try to use recyclable things.

Dreams come true

I suddenly turned into a book, lying on grass... Well, you don't believe me? Ok, let me tell the story to you. My name is Mike and it happened when I was ten. My dream was to travel and visit different countries. I really wanted to see an ocean and volcanoes, maybe just mountains. I thought about it every day. One evening I was lying in my bed, reading an interesting book about a traveller. After some time I decided to close my eyes and imagine that it was me. Soon I opened them and I was shocked.

You won't believe me! I turned into a book lying on grass. I ~~can't~~ <sup>couldn't</sup> imagine it was true. The weather was fine but in a few minutes I was picked by a wind. It was holding me so I was flying like a bird. I was amazed. After some time I flew near beautiful mountains. During this amazing flight I met a bird. I said "hi" to her but I didn't expect ~~it~~ <sup>with</sup> answer...

- Hi!

- Wow! We can talk.

- Yes, of course. Do you know where are you going?

- No, though it doesn't matter as I'm so happy and my dream came true.

- Oh, honestly, the situation is sad as you might be in danger. After some time you might get in a volcano. But I'm sorry, I have to go. Bye.

Honestly, I started to panic. I ~~didn't expect~~ Of course, my dream was to see the volcano but not to dye in it. I began to cry but suddenly I opened my eyes and realized it was just a dream and I ~~had~~ <sup>was</sup> had fallen asleep.
